COUNTY SHOWS GAIN OF 820

Christian Did Her Part Nobly But There Were 119 Other Counties in the State.

The election in this county passed off quietly and without any trouble. Both sides worked to get out a full vote and the fine weather helped to bring it out. In precinct No. 2 the polls closed with a number of voters waiting to vote, as the Republican clerk could not record the votes fast enough to poll the heavy vote. Morrow's big majority of 2038 in 1915 was cut to 1148 this time. The vote by precincts in the governor's race is shown below. The other races varied but little, except that L. E. Foster, the local candidate for superintendent of public instruction ran ahead of the Democratic ticket.

LOWER HOUSE STILL IN DOUBT

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5.—Edwin P. Morrow, Republican, was elected Governor of Kentucky over James D. Black, Democrat, by a majority estimated from 15,000 to 20,000.

Haynes Carter, personal manager for Gov. Black, in a statement conceded Black's defeat by from 8,000 to 10,000.

Unofficial returns from Eastern Kentucky, where it was expected that the Democratic nominee would cut Republican majorities, showed Morrow holding his own and in some cases exceeding figures in the gubernatorial election two years ago.

In the Western end of the State there was a considerable falling off of Democratic normal majorities, while in Jefferson county, which includes Louisville, the Republican candidate not only overturned a majority of 4,063 for Stanley, Democrat, two years ago, but turned it into a Republican victory by approximately 9,000.

Morrow will not have the State Legislature with him. Returns indicate beyond a doubt that the State Senate will be Democratic but it seemed certain that the House will be Republican.

Unofficial figures from Eastern Kentucky, Gov. Black's home, show that Morrow held his own there and, indeed, in some places exceeded the normal Republican vote. In the plurality was in evidence, but fell off considerably.

The Republicans and Mr. Morrow especially promised to clean house at Frankfort.

The league of nations was made a strong issue by the Democrats. Gov. Black said his defeat would mean repudiation of the league and of the peace treaty and of President Wilson.

Morrow declared the league was not a State issue. Figures on the two constitutional amendments were belated, but seemed to indicate that the state-wide prohibition amendment had carried by a large majority. Tabulators had few figures on the amendment which would remove officers who failed to protect prisoners from mobs.

Ohio Goes Dry.

New York, Nov. 5.—Ohio and Kentucky, the only two States holding elections yesterday in which prohibition was a direct issue, both enrolled themselves in the army of voluntary abstinence, on the face of partial returns tabulated at mid-night.

With more than half of the State reported, Secretary of State Smith predicted it would be found Ohio had voted "dry" on all four prohibitional proposals submitted to the voters and that the majority would approximate 75,000. One of these proposals was offered in the form of a referendum on the legislature's action in ratifying the eighteenth amendment of the Federal Constitution.

dealt with the prohibition enforcement act adopted by the State legislature. The other two proposals were constitutional amendments touching on prohibition.

In Kentucky it appeared that the state-wide prohibition act had been carried by a large majority.

In New Jersey, which was one of the five states holding gubernatorial elections, prohibition was an indirect issue. Despite the assertion of State Comptroller Newton A. K. Bugbee Republican candidate for governor, that prohibition was an accepted fact because it is incorporated in the federal constitution, Senator Edward L. Edwards, the Democratic candidate, made it an issue by declaring that he will use all the legal machinery of the State to make New Jersey "as wet as the Atlantic ocean."

Kentucky and Massachusetts elected Republican governors today, while Maryland and Mississippi voted Democratic, early returns tonight indicated.

New Jersey results give hope the Democratic candidate is elected.

In Chicago early returns indicated that the three public policy questions in the constitutional convention ballot had generally carried by about 2 to 1. These questions were designed to instruct convention delegates and were termed the initiative and referendum, the gateway amendment and public ownership.

In Ohio the constitutional amendment providing for the classification of property for taxation was defeated.

Wets claimed to have carried Cleveland by from 23,000 to 43,000, and in Cincinnati the wets claim majorities of 51,000 to 56,000.

In Massachusetts.

Boston, Nov. 5.—Gov. Calvin Coolidge, Republican, was re-elected by an overwhelming plurality today over Richard H. Long, Democrat. Last year, when Long also was his opponent, he won by a plurality of 17,035. The vote today swept him into office again by a margin which had reached more than 85,000 at 11 o'clock tonight, with two-thirds of the returns counted.

The law and order slogan of Governor Coolidge, based upon his stand against the striking Boston policemen, brought out a heavy reserve Republican vote. The Democrats also worked hard to bring the voters to the polls with the result that the total vote was one of the heaviest ever cast in the State.

In New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 5.—Edward L. Edwards was leading Newton A. K. Bugbee, his Republican opponent, in the race for governor by a margin of 127 votes at 2 o'clock this morning. With returns received from 104 districts out of 2011, the vote was: Edwards 180,716; Bugbee

COMMISSIONERS RACE IN CITY

John W. Richards, Democrat and W. H. Golay, Republican, Are Successful.

In the race for two commissioners for the city of Hopkinsville, there was a well-bunched contest with four candidates, two Democrats and two Republicans on a non-partisan ticket. John W. Richards, city clerk; R. T. Stowe, Commissioner of Works, W. H. Golay, former sheriff and J. S. Fritz, former councilman, were the candidates. The vote in the seven city precincts is shown below:

OPERATORS ARE PESSIMISTIC

Also Expect Protracted Strike—Gompers Urges Withdrawal Of Injunction.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Despite the spirit of hopefulness in official quarters that the end of the coal strike was near, spokesmen here for the miners and operators declared last night the country was in for a protracted industrial struggle in the bituminous fields.

Withdrawal of the injunction obtained by the government, will open the way for settlement of the coal strike, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor declared in a statement tonight.

Charging that the injunction was a grave wrong and gross blunder, Mr. Gompers said that if it were vacated and miners and operators invited to further conferences by the department of labor, he had "an abiding faith that a mutually honorable adjustment could be negotiated and effected whereby the coal strike can be brought to an end."

Labor leaders, a bit more specific than operators, estimated that all union mines would remain closed at least four weeks.

"The issue will be submitted to the court at Indianapolis next Saturday, calmly and dispassionately and if the court adjudges that the strike is illegal, I apprehend that the miners, as law abiding citizens, will discontinue it."

Officers of the conciliation department of labor said no offers had been received from either side to attempt settlement of the strike thru mediation.

No attempt has been made to conceal the fact that train service may be materially reduced unless the strike is brought to a speedy close. Just now the big job is to keep coal moving and prevent congestion. The question of curtailment of service will be decided by regional directors.
